Grand Knight's Message

Brother Knights,

I am writing to you from cloudy and cold Corpus Christi. It was only 42 degrees here this morning, but no snow. Please exercise caution during the winter weather you are experiencing. Please enjoy Valentine's & Family Day with your Families.

They are truly the Number One in priority to all of us.

Thank-you for the exceptional turn-out from Council 11886 at the St. Francis Relic Day at St Mary's Cathedral.

I know that You will support DGK Robert Charest and our Officers while I am away. Thank-you in advance. God Bless, Jim Laudanski, Grand Knight Council 11886

A word from the editor

If you have any content for Knight Moves please forward to the Editor - Robert Charest at rcharrest@cogeco.ca no later than the Tuesday of the week prior to the council meeting. If you submit after that there is no guarantee that it will appear in the next issue.

Also, please forward any comments or feedback including errors on Knight Moves that you might have found. Correction on our January issue are as follows:

p.8 Under the Birthdays dhays Section insert : Jean M. Pellerin 12 January. It seems we also missed his birthday the January issue of 2017. We send double regrets and wish him a belated birthday wishes

Your Prayers are needed.

At the 11886 Council Meeting 12 January, 2018 the Knights were asked to pray for the following Knights and their family members who are ill or have passed away:

Hudson McIssaac: Mackenzie Robinson's brother Greg who is terminally ill; Marcus Hacault; Helen Hanley; L. Poitvin: and Victor Lafreniere.

Relic of St. Francis Xavier at St Mary's Cathedral 10 January

St. Francis Xavier is considered by many to be the greatest evangelizer since St. Paul. The relic is the right forearm and hand of St. Francis Xavier. It is estimated he baptized more than 100,000 people with this arm. His arm, as well as the rest of his body, is incorrupt, Saints are referred to as incorrupt, when that body does not experience natural decay. It has been 465 years since his death.

In 1540, at a moment's notice, St. Francis Xavier was asked to replace another Jesuit on mission to Asia. He did not hesitate to follow God's will. He had a charism of languages and could miraculously converse in the native language of those to whom he went. It was important to him that local disciples were raised up and equipped to continue ministering and evangelizing others in the region. The veneration of relics is a longstanding practice in the Catholic Church. Within Christianity the practice rests on the belief that God came to humanity in the flesh, namely in the physical person of Jesus of Nazareth. Important Sacraments of the faith include water, wine and bread -physical elements- that take on spiritual, supernatural value and characteristics. Similarly the relics provide for incarnational experience of God's graces. Catholics believe that saints can intercede for humanity, given their proximity to God in what is commonly referred to as the Communion of Saints of the Mystical Body of Christ.

There are analogies to this in our human experience. When we have lost a loved one, going to their places or touching their favourite things evoke reverence, affection and connection to them.

A number of Council 11886 Knights were involved in the day of the veneration of the relic in one capacity or another. The Knights known to have participated are as follows: Joe Stenson, Mike Stenson, Robert Charest, Jim Laudanski, Robert Bouvier, Mac Robinson, Raymond Paquin, Peter Scott, Roger Levac, Jonathan Balfour, Philip Henderson, Michael Crespo, Scotty Smith Jerzy Prugar, Father Antony Werunga, and Father David Berezowski.

Content on St. Francis was obtained from the Catholic Christian Outreach Website

St. Vincent De Paul Lunch Team

Mike Stenson, Joe Stenson, Jim Laudanski, Mac Robinson, and Robert Charest made and cooked a meal for approximately 70 people on the 10 January.

Mike Stenson experienced some bad luck that day. He could not find a spot in the lot at St. Vincent de Paul parking lot, so he parked on Patrick Street, about a block away. He had chrome caps running along the top of the box on his Tundra pick up. When he returned to his truck he noticed that the chrome caps closest to the sidewalk were missing. They were bolted on so whoever took them needed a wrench to remove them. They were not ripped off as the threads in the truck are still intact. Mike was not too concerned about it as it is after all, just a truck.

A little Catholic Humour

This cartoon reminds me of a conversation I had last December with the spouse of a Knight from our council. She has been married almost 60 years. She indicated that, "All men suffer from selective listening." referring to husbands who do not listen to their wives all of the time. Of course in the case of Adam this was not the case. My theory is this is when selective listening probably commenced.

Some food for thought

When you dress for Mass, you are not dressing to impress others, you are dressing for God. In addition, just the very act of dressing up nicely and modestly for Mass makes children more inclined to behave better during Mass.

Basketball Free Throw Competition

Council 11886 Knights of Columbus were involved in the Basketball Free-Throw competition at the following schools: St Francis Asissi on the 15 January, St. Martha on 18 January and Holy Name of Jesus on the 19th January. Approximately 135 children were involved in the competition.

St Martha's grade 8 leadership class provided 10 students to assist in the competition. As a result, we were able to get thru about 60 students thru the competition in 1.5 hours with all 6 baskets in the gymnasium being used. As a result we cancelled day of this school's event.

Besides the council level of the competition we also completed the District level at the schools as well. The following knights volunteered for the hazardous assignment: The Three Musketeers known as Mike, Joe and Pat Stenson, Ray Paquin, Jim Laudanski, Phil Henderson, Jerzy Prugar, Pat Murray, and Scotty Smith. As well, Anna Prugar, Gerry Gaudreau and Roger Thibodeau, non-knights, helped us conduct the competition

The highest scorer in the Council Level of the Competition scored 22 baskets out of 25 shots. The Toronto Raptors should sign him up.

Special Olympics Curling Team

On the 28 January, Grand Knight Jim Laudanski, 4th from right (sitting), is seen talking with members of the Kingston's area Special Olympics curling team. In front of them is a Special Olympics flag provided by the knights which members of the team are signing. The flag will be flying this summer at a Special Olympics event. The Grand Knight also presented a cheque of $500 to the organization and met with members and coaches of the curling team. Part of the funds will go to the track team who intend to buy some Javelins.

The Special Olympics curling program develops its athletes in stages. As each athlete accomplishes a new skill they are introduced to another skill. No athlete is left behind. The length of time needed to learn a skill is not a concern. Each person learns at a different pace. Their aim is to bring them along and improve their abilities at their comfort pace.

In their curling program they have individuals that are physically and mentally capable of playing 4 & 8 end competition games. However, currently, some of their athletes are only capable of playing at the club level. Both groups get the same training and each athlete can put their training to practical use on the ice. In time everyone improves. The Kingston area curlers have done great as shown by the fact that in the recent past they have won gold at Provincials and Nationals as well as numerous first places finish in other spils.

It must be said that our curling program could not run without support such as yours. Money donated and raised goes totally to the athlete needs such as transportation, facility rentals, and equipment.

The donations help families who are struggling to give their challenged children some normal sporting activity.

Who is Father Herman Veenendaal ?

This is Herman Veenendaal - my mom's dad, and my Opa. If not for this man's determination and tenacity, I would not be here today. I thought I'd tell you some of his story.

Sadly Opa died in the small hours of the morning on December 16, 2017 at the age of 94. In speaking with my family this week, I've been able to get a bit more colour for this story, and I've updated the text below with what I've learned.

Europe during the Second World War was full of stories that amaze and inspire. Here's my family's:

Before the War, Opa met Jacoba Nijland, who would later become my Oma, when her family had moved close to his town. He saw her standing in the garden outside her family's new home, and thought to himself that he had to meet her. Not one to let moss gather under his feet he walked up and asked her if she's busy that afternoon, and if she'd like to go to see a movie with him. She checked with her mother, and off they went.

There was a brief courtship, and then despite the Netherlands' declared neutrality, the Nazis invaded on May 10, 1940. On May 15, Dutch military forces surrendered, and all men aged 18-45 were ordered into forced labour camps to feed the Nazi war machine. Opa was posted to a munitions factory in Wilemshaven, transported there in June 1940 by box car - the Allies bombed that factory in the early part of 1943, destroying it's capacity for manufacture. Opa was one of the few survivors, having hidden under a flight of stairs during the attack.

He escaped with a Belgian man who took him under his wing and helped him walk back to his family's hometown of Veenendaal (Google tells me today that's a 55 hour, 273 km walk through Nazi controlled territory), where he hid for seven days and nights. The Dutch underground resistance movement then transported him from the south of Nazi-occupied Holland to the north - sometimes by foot, sometimes literally in the back of a cart filled with hay. Posing as a farmhand with the false name Martin Lathouwers, he hid from Nazi authorities for 3.5 years until the Allies liberated Holland to end the war in 1945.

At the end of the occupation, Opa walked home to find his future wife had survived the occupation. They emigrated to Halifax in 1953 on the SS Waterman, with the first two of their seven children. My mother would be born in Kingston on September 26, 1955.

They built a life for themselves in Kingston. Opa learned English working on construction sites and in the 1970s, watching Wheel of Fortune in the evenings. They built their home just outside of Kingston in a new subdivision, and a family named the Breens moved in next door.

Opa and Mr Breen (I never knew his full name) one day got to talking about their respective war experiences, and they found they had something in common. Mr Breen was a bombardier on the raid that set Opa free in 1943!

That's something that always amazes me. What are the odds that your next door neighbour had simultaneously almost ended your life, but also set you free from one of the most oppressive regimes in human history?

I'm glad it went the way it did.

Oma passed away on July 1, 2014, surrounded by her family. There are over 50 of us now - we're breeders! She was such a light of joy and happiness through my life - always quick with a laugh and a smile. Opa tears up when he talks about her: "She waited for me through the war.

Gift Card Program

I suffered through a week of flu symptoms; thus, was not in the best of humour, when I was told how great the gift card program was doing. “No thanks to you” was my too quick response to a Knight who has not once participated in eight years. Yes the program has done well. It has been a useful contribution to the Council’s charitable funds that supports many great activities. $4340 for 2017 was our best year yet. Over $22.5K over eight years. Made possible because a few Knights and parishioners were willing to use Cash cards/gift cards for their everyday shopping. My ill timed response was my frustration that the majority of the council ignores the program, or opts in once a year for only a few cards. I continually cite the fact that if every council member used the cards for groceries and gas, every month then the program would clear over $16K a year and it did not cost you a cent because it is money you are spending anyway. Alas it is not for everyone! And Yes you might miss out on a few credit card rewards, but if that is what is important to you, then don’t poke me when I am miserable with a cold. You might not like the response. Are you willing to make a difference? Thank you to my Brother Knights who are participating! You are making a difference.

Words from our District Deputy

Thank you Council 11886 for your leadership in promoting many programs. You were the only District council to support the Holy Family Icon pilgrimage, you were the only District council to support the Special Olympics Flag relay, you were the only District Council to support the youth poster contest and free throw competitions, and you are the only council that has appointed and certified a youth program director. Your leadership in the parish and Holy Family Chapel is well recognized and your support of other councils in need has been welcome. You are not the biggest council but you are the most active and the effort is certainly appreciated by the many people who rely on your support. I may from time to time lean on you to support me in my duties. I am grateful for your assistance. As we move towards Lent may you individually take the time to reflect on your spiritual devotion and perhaps as a council, lead the parish in some of the regular Lenten activities.

Knights Deals

As previously reported, last year was a positive outcome. 2018 will be a slow start, as the Senators tickets sales have slowed miserably. We have already had two game go unsold even at ridiculously marked down prices. The rest of the year looks bright as the Come From Away bus trip sold out in a flash, the Phantom of the Opera bus trip is selling, the three Blue Jays bus trips promise to be good and the Argos have promised to repeat their seat sale program that successfully supported our activities last year. Although all our seats are less than box office price saving you $$, and our bus trips are less than the commercial tour operators, saving you $$, it just may not be your thing. I still need your help to inform others, whether relatives, friends, neighbours or co workers, no doubt some of them would happily appreciate saving $$ on tickets. Your referrals do make a difference.

Argos, Blue Jays, Collision Repair Discounts, Moore's Clothing Discounts, Phantom of the Opera, Redblacks, Toronto Honda Indy, Toronto FC deal pending.

Family of the Month

Regretfully, Council 11886 has not selected a “Family of the Month” for January, 2018. However, we are seeking nominations for February.

The Knights of Columbus, have always been interested in the development of strong, vibrant families. In support of this philosophy and to create an even greater awareness of our many fine Knights of Columbus families, the Supreme Council instituted the “Family of the Month” program in 1978. As the council selects the “Family of the Month,” the appropriate reporting form should be completed and signed by the Grand Knight.

Completed council forms must reach the Supreme Council office by the 15th day of the month following the month designated on each individual report form. On the fifteenth day of each month — from August through July — 100 “Family of the” reporting forms will be drawn at random from among all entries received at the Supreme Council office for the previous month. Each of the 100 selected families will receive a beautiful Holy Family gift, along with a personal letter of congratulations from Supreme Knight Carl A. Anderson. These will be sent directly to the families at their home addresses.

At this time, Knights are requested to please submit any future nominations on the appropriate form, found at the Knights of Columbus website, to the Acting Grand Knight by the first of the month. 6th Annual Knights of Columbus
