Grand Knight's Message

My Worthy Brother Knights!

November was a huge month for our council, highlighted by St Vincent de Paul Lunch serving, Mass for Deceased Brother Knights, Frontenac Hockey social, Christmas Party attended by many members and spouses, and more. Now that November is in our rear view mirror, and we've given thanks for all our blessings, we shift to the month of the birth of our Lord, Jesus Christ. Our council celebrates this special month with many activities, which you can see in this newsletter.

It's not uncommon to feel lost and out of control during the holidays. We become slaves to our calendars, with various work, social, family, and other personal obligations all vying for our time. Are we giving all of ourselves while undertaking the task at hand, or are we thinking about everything else we have on our plates? This month I'd like us all to consider having focus in all we do.

As we come to the end of another calendar year, we have an opportunity to examine our lives, and make plans for the future. December is a chance to focus on the things that are important to us – our faith, our family, our relationships, our career. God wants us to be happy and fulfilled, and through our parish, He provides ways for us to do so.

Adoration is a great way to focus on one's faith completely, if only for an hour. While at mass, focus on the Word, the prayers, the songs, the homily, and Holy Communion. The rosary before Mass and prayers in the Chapel are also ideal times for focused prayer. December is also a good time to consider getting involved with new committees and projects within the council. 2019 promises to be another year packed with old events and new, as we continue to expand our programming.

December is also an opportunity to bring in new Brother Knight. It is a gift to our Order and to the new member.

Please take a few moments to read through this newsletter to see where your skills and abilities can best help our community, Parishes, Priests, and others.

As I write this Marcus Hacault has just had a cancer operation. Please pray for Marcus and all those in need of our prayers.

Merry Christmas and a Happy, Safe and Healthy New Year to you and your family. Vivat Jesus!

Jim Laudanski, Grand Knight

A word from the editor

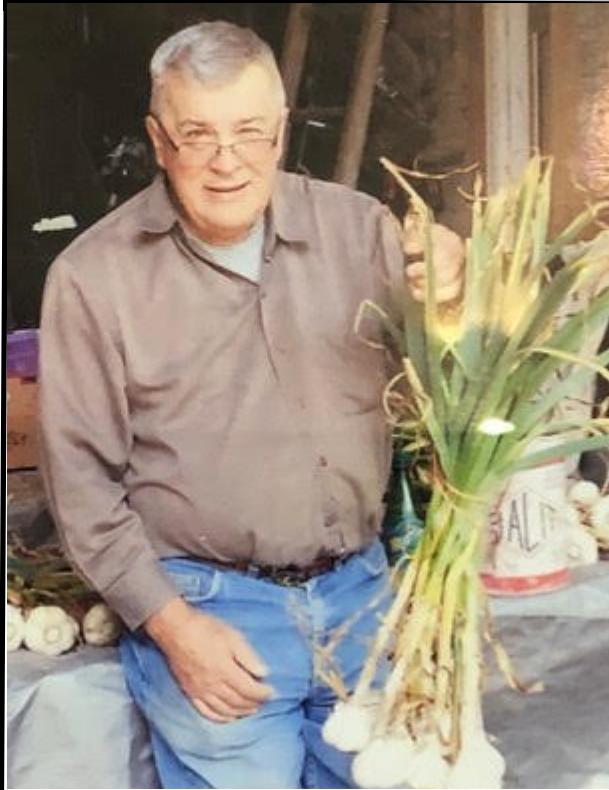

If you have content for Knight Moves please forward to the Editor - Brother Robert Charest at knights11886RC@gmail.com no later than the Tuesday of the week prior to the council meeting. If you submit after that there is no guarantee that it will appear in the next issue. Also, please forward any comments or feedback including errors on Knight Moves that you might have found.

Your Prayers are needed.

At the 11886 Council Meeting 13 Nov. 2018 the Knights were asked to pray for: the following who have recently passed away: Brother Dr. Stan Pietak; for those who are ill: Hudson MacIssac, Garry Richards, Marcus Hacault, Pat Murray, Guy Lahaie, Jean Pellerin Junior's grandmother and Joe Brian.

Who is Dr. Stan Pietak?

On October 29th, 2018, our Council 11886 lost a great man that contributed so much to our many functions. Dr. Stan Pietak was involved with the once famous "Ladies Night" functions that happened regularly when Fr. Tim Shea was our parish priest. He was always there when we tackled the garbage pickup on Hwy. 15 and he was a regular at our monthly St. Vincent de Paul meal preparations when his health allowed. If help was needed, we could always count on Stan. His quiet humour, his wisdom and his personality will remain etched in the minds of those who were fortunate enough to rub shoulders with him.

Many Knights attended a recent service for Stan held at Blessed Sacrament Church in Amherstview where Father Tim Shea spoke of Stan's deep religious convictions and his admiration for him. We all knew Stan set a great example of how to live your life and the speeches that day confirmed it. Stan's sister and nephew spoke as well as his daughter "Alexis", the girl we had not met but heard of so many times while working alongside of him. He was so very proud of her and we could envision her peddling across Australia or partaking in some other exotic venture that he shared with us about his daughter. Once after his health had been compromised, I remarked that he didn't seem worried and he quietly replied "Would it help?" Our Council will miss him a great deal but for me, I can honestly say that I will always smile when I hear the name "Dr. Stan Pietak."

Attached is the enlightening eulogy that Alexis shared about her dad. I hope you enjoy it as much as those at the service did.

Brother Mike Stenson, Chancellor.

Thank you everyone for being here today to celebrate the life of my Dad, Stanley Pietak, and for the support you've kindly provided to my Mom and I.

The day after my Dad was diagnosed with cancer, things around the house started breaking in the most unusual and unexpected ways. Within the first few hours, the washing machine had been flooded with a disgusting septic system back-wash, multiple appliances broke around the house, and a doorknob came right off in my hands. We saw this flood of home breakdowns as truly unusual coincidences because my Dad was the glue who kept us and our house together and running smoothly. My Dad's reserved nature encompassed, not only a man of true honour and dependability, but also of exceptional skill and competence in everything that he put himself to.

My Dad was a talented and highly respected anesthesiologist. But he sometimes joked that he'd actually wanted to be a mechanic, or a farmer, rather than a physician, and he said that he'd chosen anesthesiology because it allowed him to work most closely with machines. But my Dad didn't leave any of his dreams or desires behind, and found the time and energy to be and do all of what he wanted. He was not only an excellent anesthesiologist, but also a farmer raising cattle, chickens, turkeys, and pigs. He was a skilled welder and made his own eclectic farm equipment and other tools and structures to benefit the home and cottage. He was a fantastic gardener, and loved to grow challenging or exotic plants, like goji and inca berries, and of course, garlic. I'm sure it will be some time before some of us can look at a clove of garlic and not burst into tears, remembering the magnificent garlic that my Dad would gift to us each autumn. In addition to all of that and more, my Dad was an anchor of support to my mother, and in his healthy years, an energetic and playful Dad.

My Mom and Dad met when they were both medical students at Queen's University, and they were wed in a very, very small ceremony, in-between their exams and a few days before Valentine's, in 1966. Soon after, my parents spent a year in San Francisco, near the height of the hippie movement, where my Dad took to wearing bell-bottoms, flowered shirts, and this is where he first cultivated his signature black moustache, which he'd have for much of his life. My parents then moved into the old farm house on Hughes road, where they lived together for another 42 years. 12 years into their marriage I came along, as their first and only child.

As a kid, I remember my Dad being energetic and playful. In spring, he'd don his oversized hip-waders and we'd go out to the back swamps to collect tadpoles, so I could see how they transformed into leopard frogs. On the weekends, we'd sometimes wake up before dawn and go out fishing for catfish on the Rideau canal in a canoe that he'd retrofitted with a large engine. The summer months were highlighted by cottage life, where my Dad delighted in fishing for small and largemouth bass, and where evenings were often spent pulling porcupine quills out of the snout of my Aunt Teresa's adventurous husky and/or our German shepherd.

At 13, my Dad would pick me up from after-school karate classes, which he'd arrive a bit early for, in order to watch the training. A few months later, to the horror of my overly-embarrassed teenage self, my Dad enrolled himself in my karate class – this marked the end of my karate training, and the beginning of his life-long passion for the martial arts. My Dad became skilled in a range of martial arts, including Kung Foo, Tai Chi, Bagwa, and Chi Kung, and even built a dojo in his garage where he could practice and teach the occasional student. He secretly held a deep interest in aspects of traditional Chinese philosophy, and believed that we all have a life-force energy called qi, which can be cultivated through martial arts, and even used for healing.

In recent years, my Dad paired up with my creative, silver-smithing Mom, converted his dojo into a workshop, and began creating the most beautiful cut and polished stones for jewellery, one of which I'm wearing today. He loved to source remarkably beautiful stones from the most unexpected places, like while rota-tilling the garden, or on beach walks in Engelwood Florida, where he and my Mom spent a month each winter with Teresa and Robbie, my aunt and uncle.

Above my father's bed hangs a picture of one of his martial arts idols, Bruce Lee. Bruce Lee is quoted as saying: "Adapt what is useful, reject what is useless, and add what is specifically your own", which I believe reflects my father's valuable and practical approach to life, and is one of the many things I have learned from him. We can also hear my father's mantra while courageously responding to his cancer journey when Bruce Lee says: "Do not pray for an easy life; pray for the strength to endure a difficult one." Dad, thank you for all of the things that you have created, done, and taught us. Our lives will never be the same again without you. You will be tremendously missed, and always in our hearts.

St. Vincent de Paul Lunch

Raymond Paquin, Paul Paquin, Scotty Smith, Jim Laudanski and Robert Charest made and served a meal at St. Vincent de Paul 14 November for about seventy-five people. We were fortunate to be able to sample the clam chowder soup which was simply delicious. This was the crème de la crème of the meal. The Editor had two bowls in between dish cycles which are very short which makes it difficult to do.

Knights of Columbus-----Visibility

The Knights of Columbus is becoming more well known in Holy name of Jesus Church since our two most recent tributes to our deceased members; who were also faithful parishioners.

I have had a lot of very positive feedback from the parishioners.

I always said," if God called us to do a task; He will qualify us for the job".

On these two occasions; all the brother Knights who assisted, were well qualified!

Brother Gary Richards, PGK, FDD.

Family of the Month Presentations

In our last fiscal year, three families from Council 11886 were the recipients for Family of the Month. Also, the Ludger Hacault family were the recipients as the Family of the year. The Raymond Paquin Family was nominated for the Month of January and the Rory Moore family was nominated for the month of July. Pictures of the presentations to these families are showed below. However, due to circumstances beyond we have not been to present to the Hacault family. The picture on the left is the Paquin Family and the one on the right is of the Moore Family. On the day of the Moore presentation one of their daughters had just served mass for the first time and did a super job.

School, Council and District Soccer Challenge Winners

Students who participated in the Soccer Challenge with Council 11886 won all of the 10 District Awards

Picture at Left taken 11 Nov. - Council and District Awards presented at St Francis Assisi Catholic School. A student at this school won a District Award.

Picture at left, 16 Nov. Council and District Awards presented at St. Martha Catholic School. A student from this school scored 20 points 14 times, in the regional competition. Shooting like this is unprecedented. Unfortunately, the Council and District awards were presented on a snow day. Hence, 4 of the students to receive awards were absent. Six of the students were District winners.

In the blank space above imagine 9 students standing with their awards on the 22 Nov. in Holy Name of Jesus Church who were the Council and District Awards winners for the soccer challenge from Holy Name Catholic School. Brother Ray Paquin who presented the awards forgot to take a picture of the award winners . Hence, we must imagine what they would look like. Three of the students were District Winners.

School awards were presented to 8 students at James Stewart Catholic School by the principal. The highest scorer at the school was a 10 year girl.

Region and Soccer Challenge Winners

Ten students who participated in Council's 11886 Soccer Challenge all became Eastern Region Winners. Three of these students became State Winners and two were runner-up to the State Winners at other levels. In summary, the students of the schools our council are responsible did very well in the soccer challenge.

Thought for the day

We have tons of friends.

Not only are there more than 1.2 billion Catholics, but we also have the Angels and Saints.

Brother Gary Richards, PGK, FDD.

On Thursday, 29 November our council conducted an Admission / 1st degree during which two Royal Military College (RMC) Officer

Cadets became Knights of Columbus of our council. The degree was conducted by the Grand Knight, the Deputy Grand Knight and the Financial Secretary. Our new Knights are Brothers Ryley Mackin and Spencer D'Amore.

When a degree is conducted, it is in honour of someone. As deceased Sir Knight Bill Walker was a Past Grand Knight, and he also served on RMC drill staff where he helped mentor and instruct Officer Cadets (OCdts). Because of his background, I recommended and the Grand Knight agreed that this degree be in honour of Bill.

While most of us know Bill from his time in our Parish and council, the following is additional information concerning his service at RMC instructing OCdts.

Bill's last military posting was to the RMC from which he retired in 1974. The RMC graduating class of 1974 honoured Bill by inviting him to march off the parade square with them. Having been a member of the RMC military staff, I know that the individuals who are selected to march off with the graduating class are very special to them.

The following information was provided by the Class Secretary of graduating class of 1974, Mr Tim Wilkin, a practicing lawyer in Kingston:

“ Bill was a member of the College's Drill Staff so was responsible for our drill training and parade preparation. He also coached the College's pistol team, but not being on it, I have no experiences with him there.

The thing that stood out most in my memory about Bill was his ability to get the entire Cadet Wing laughing on the Parade Square. His acerbic wit mixed with that wonderful East London accent kept everyone laughing while making his point about whatever it was that we were not doing correctly. He was particularly appreciated because the Chief Drill Instructor was Chief Warrant officer Don Coxe who was a particularly unpleasant individual. Bill knew exactly how all of us felt about him and often made funny comments about him behind his back to get us all focused again after one of Coxe's rants. His ability to be both tough and demanding while at the same time funny and human was what endeared him the most to us.

Bill was so liked by our class that we asked him to march off with us on graduation because he was retiring at the same time.”
